

Riccardo is a successful business professional, property manager of real estate, motivational speaker, entrepreneur and the CEO and founder of Sayres Home Solutions, LLC. Riccardo was born and raised in the southeastern part of Canarsie in Brooklyn, New York. From a very young age, growing up in a predominantly low socioeconomic and underserved community, he noticed a lack of opportunities and ownership of the people in his community, which is what motivated him to pursue a life of entrepreneurship. He aspired to be someone who is not only motivational, but also be the one offer opportunities, jobs and most importantly, encourage the importance of ownership within his community.

In school, his favorite subject was math. He was infatuated with how numbers work, calculating percentages and how business and money works can work for you, rather than you working for money. He has always had a love and passion for being financially literate, which he believes is a key aspect that lacks in his community. Which is why, he wants to use his platform and voice to continuously teach financial literacy and freedom to those who need to hear it the most.

Riccardo attended LaGuardia Community College where he graduated with an associate in applied science in Occupational Therapy Assistant. His love for helping people drove him to pursue this line of work. Throughout his years in college, he took the initiative of continuing to educate himself financially about business management, and real estate all while handling heavy course work.

Shortly after, Riccardo founded Sayres Home Solutions, LLC. a family founded property management and consulting company that specializes in the management of residential and commercial properties in the New York area and other neighboring cities.

At the age of 29, Riccardo successfully purchased his first multi-family residential home in Jamaica, NY and has gained much-needed experience and lessons in managing and maintaining the property.

Riccardo has and continues to leverage his early success, experience, and networking to continue to grow and build his business and resume, while continuing to make a positive impact on his community.
